GOVERNMENT TOLD RAIL EQUIPMENT IN BAD CONDITION

WORSER THAN PUBLIC IMAGINES. UNCLE SAM ACTS IN DUE TIME

Legal Procedure Expected to Extend to Roads When Actions Warrant.

By DAVID LAWRENCE. Copyright, 1922, by The Janesville Gazette.

Washington.—The federal government is in possession of positive information that the condition of the country is much worse than the public imagines and at the proper time will bring forth the evidence as a basis of action.

The information process begun by Attorney General Daugherty against the strike leaders is in its infancy. He intends to proceed in due time against the railroads who may be violating the transportation act or the regulations of the Interstate Commerce Commission with respect to equipment.

As for the temporary injunction already obtained by the attorney general, it is significant that strong opposition is coming from an entirely unexpected quarter—namely, certain rail executives known as "irreconcilables."

Surprise Opposition. They, and others who sympathize with them, are criticizing the injunction on the ground that it abridges free speech, but their real feeling is that the government has intervened at the wrong time and has brought about a situation which will permit the strikers to bow to the government.

It is true that there are defects in the temporary injunction and no one will be more eager to see them corrected by the court than the interested parties of the matter. The interesting phase of the matter is the vigorous criticism which has been made in quarters where the labor side of the railroad question is about as enthusiastic as their fondness for the unions themselves.

U. S. Wants Transportation. What certain rail executives fear—and their viewpoint has by no means been concealed—is that the unions will capitulate to the government. They feel they have the strike beaten.

Pardon Hearings Set for Sept. 12

Madison.—Gov. J. J. Blaine will hold his first pardon hearings since July, on Thursday, Sept. 12. At that time nearly 50 applications, those from executive clemency, will be before the governor.

During the last three months Governor Blaine has been occupied with his campaign for re-nomination and has postponed the regular monthly pardon hearings. Applications have accumulated.

The governor's fourth of July announcement, in which he said that he would receive no more applications for clemency from former soldiers who could show their condition was directly or indirectly caused by war service, has brought a response from several inmates of Wisconsin penal institutions.

RUMORS PERSIST Jewell and Associates are Served with Notice of Temporary Edict.

Washington.—Administrative officials who have kept in close touch with the industrial situation declared Friday that settlement of the shopmen's strike on a number of railroads was "probable" as a result of conferences in Chicago.

PEACE RUMORS IN CHICAGO.—Persistent rumors of an impending peace or partial settlement of the rail strike continued here Friday without tangible foundation in the way of definite statements by rail heads or officials to substantiate the reports.

Members of the railroad executives who commented on their rumors denied knowledge of new proposals to end the strike. Union leaders declined to lift the cloak of secrecy which appeared to surround the reported peace move.

Hope for Agreements.—Expressions of hope for separate agreements with individual roads were the most positive statements any union leaders made.

A meeting of several western railroad executives with Daniel Willard, president of the Baltimore and Ohio, was expected here Friday afternoon. No formal announcement of the meeting was made, although it was un-

A mob numbering several hundred attempted to gain entrance to the jail Thursday night, but while the jailer was at his post, the mob was spirited to a back door and taken to Grand Rapids in an automobile.

Authorities said the mob appeared to have been without leadership and that further violence was not anticipated. Linderman was fatally stabbed during a quarrel, after the men left their work at a laundry here. Liberti, claimed Linderman forced him to fight and that he stabbed him in self defense.

GREKS TRYING TO FLEE TRAP IN ASIA MINOR

Athens.—The evacuation of Asia Minor by the Greeks as a result of the successful offensive against their army by the Turkish nationalists, is accepted here as a foregone conclusion, although it has not been announced officially.

Meanwhile the cabinet has resigned as a result of the Greek reverses and a new ministry is in process of formation.

Actual orders for the evacuation of Asia Minor have not yet been given, it is said, but General Douglis, the chief of staff, is studying the problem so as to carry out the evacuation under the best conditions possible.

Two Generals Captured.—A telephone message from the Greek commander in the field says General Triocoupis, who had been appointed to the command, and General Digenis were captured by Turkish cavalry while they were proceeding to join the Greek corps at Alashehr.

The third army corps which suffered the least from the nationalist pressure, retreated toward Bursa and consequently doubt is cast upon the possibility that Bursa has been evacuated. That Bursa has been occupied by the nationalists was declared here today and it was declared the third corps had taken up its position there.

Refugees Arriving.—Refugees from Smyrna are already arriving here. Eight hundred of them were brought into the port of Athens. They were accompanied by a number of functionaries, bringing the archives of the Greek high commissioner at Smyrna.

Fear Imprisoned Poisonous Gases

Jackson, Cal.—Diminished hope accompanied the renewal Friday of feverish efforts to rescue the 47 miners, entombed deep in the Argonaut gold mine here 11 days ago. The rescue work is growing that few if any of the men would be found alive.

In the first official statement issued since the disaster, Z. A. Sisson, president of the Argonaut company, expressed the belief that all of the men had perished.

Mr. Sisson said he did not place credence in reports that the entombed miners had survived their rescuers by means in the last few days. He based his hopeless outlook largely on the report of Dr. Dusenak, of the industrial accident commission, that gas fumes, issuing from one of the shafts, would kill in two minutes.

GREAT STOCK SHOW AT WALWORTH FAIR

Much Attention Paid to Agricultural Program and Judging.

The Walworth county fair at Elkhorn is as great as ever. Huge crowds have been attracted since the opening of the fair. The first week a fair has been held in that county.

It is a friendly and clean fair that they hold in Walworth county ranking with the best in the state. Jefferson, Dane and Green counties. The speed program with varied track events are good, with a stellar line of free attractions.

Much attention is given to livestock and the agricultural program. There is more than 300 cattle, about 600 head of swine and 100 head of sheep shown. The exhibits are complete and the high priced Toggenburg goats and Persian sheep from the Green Gable farm of William Wrigley Jr. are the cheering item.

A good percentage of the stock shown was brought to Elkhorn from the state fair. Competition in most classes is keen with H. L. Stein leading in number. Both the Jefferson and Walworth county herds were shown and many local breeders had additional animals.

Stock county is well represented in all three departments and won many prizes in cattle, swine and sheep. The judging was completed Thursday afternoon when the Holstein ribbons were awarded by Judge Owen E. Mullen, Watertown, Cusack and O'Hara, Delavan, and the champion bull easily for their entry. Walworth's Ollie Hilliard, is still undefeated. The grand champion cow is from Jefferson county.

Jefferson Herd Wins.
The bulk of the blue ribbons on Holsteins went to the Jefferson county herd, with the junior bull championship honors awarded to Prince Denver Creamline, now owned by J. J. McCann and sons, Elkhorn.

There were three herds of milking Shorthorns which were judged by Robert Traynor, Koshkoneong, S. T. Foster and sons, Elkhorn, and Charles Liddle, one. The bulk of the ribbons went to animals from the Foster herd.

J. J. McCann and sons, Janesville, had first but one on best Shorthorns and Master's Signal was grand champion bull and Jessica of Geneva champion cow. A. J. Grunewald and sons, East Troy, had a good herd of Scotch top Shorthorns at the fair.

Ira Inman had no opposition on Brown Swiss, nor did Ray Boynton with his herd of Friesian Shorthorns. This herd has had remarkable success in a circuit of fairs from Green county to Washington and then Mineral Point.

In the Holstein division Walworth county has the following entries: E. Cusack, Delavan; 1, William O'Leary of East Troy; 2, Cook & O'Connor, East Troy; 3, F. A. Many Scalpers in Japan

Tokio—There are brokers for practically everything in Japan, who operate as the old "ticket scalpers" in America. Telephone and steamship passage brokerage are well recognized industries. A new form of brokerage, however, has appeared in Kobe. During an inquiry into the forging of bank books with which the forgers secured 180,000 yen from money lenders, it was discovered that brokers were dealing in these books.

Chicago, Sept. 15, to adopt "measures to overcome the present demoralized market conditions," according to Thomas O'Neill, president of the California Vegetable Union.

The union has sent invitations to similar associations in Wisconsin, Minnesota, Michigan and three other states.

"Demoralized potato market conditions are general throughout the country," said Mr. O'Neill, and are causing enormous losses to growers, as the price obtained is far below cost of production, and in many instances, even below cost of harvesting.

Decrease of shipments 50 per cent in the next week was suggested as a temporary solution.

MARS IS NOT DEAD, STAR GAZER TELLS A. A. S. CONVENTION

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

William Jay—Prof. E. C. Slipper, assistant director of Lowell observatory at Flagstaff, Ariz., in a paper read before the 38th convention of the American Astronomical society, in session here, declared Mars is not a dead planet, but has heat sufficient to maintain plant and animal life.

Venus and Jupiter, large, considered hot stars, are, on the contrary, cold and can sustain no life, he said.

Prof. Slipper's contention is based on the successful application of recently invented apparatus for measuring the heat radiated by planets.

Slipper told the assembled star gazers that he recently completed the measurement of Venus, Jupiter and Mars. His research shows him that Mars radiates 50 per cent of the heat it receives from the sun while neither Jupiter nor Venus radiate heat at all.

It was previously held by scientists that Mars was a cold star—and that has completely cooled since it was thrown out into space, a hurrying ball of fire. They believed, too, that because of its distance from the sun, it obtained little or no heat from that source and that the temperature on the planet seldom goes above freezing.

CENTIPEDÉ FRIEND, NOT FOE, ASSERTION
Honolulu.—The centipede, shunned, feared and abhorred enemy of the residents of Hawaii, who can cause a small panic by merely appearing in sight, really is a friend, according to University of Hawaii investigators, because he subsists mainly on other pestiferous insects, mainly mosquitos and cockroaches, thus decreasing the herds of those bugs.

The investigation showed the centipede, whose bite is feared because of many tales of its death-bringing qualities, is not vicious and is retiring in disposition except when attacked. Then he has fairly potent means of defense in the feelers in his fore-foot with which he inflicts his "bite." But his bite is no more serious usually than that of a bee or wasp, the university lecturer said.

THE GAZETTE'S PLATFORM

Read every energy to finish the high school building so it may be used before the end of 1922. With the completion, the problem of a community center will be solved. Janesville should have ample hotel facilities to care for the public. That will be especially true when the high school is completed and the auditorium is available for the largest conventions. Finish the paving of Janesville streets as soon as the city can. The necessary readjustments in taxation so as not to place a heavy burden on the people. Give the city clerk a salary of $10,000 for this purpose and it should not be used for any other. Finish the city and county planning commission. Memorial building for World War soldiers, the living and the dead—to be done as historical building.

EXEMPTING THE HOME FROM TAXATION.

In order to stimulate the building of homes New York exempted from taxation $5,000 of the value on all homes built between April 1, 1920 and the same day in 1922. It was a great stimulus to home building and in that time houses were constructed to care for 58,592 families at a cost of $269,361,284. Many hundreds of families which had hitherto lived in flats and tenements became home owners. The result has been remarkable in more than the mere comfort of the owner and the family. There is nothing that will add to stability of government so much as the fact that the people are owners of property and particularly of a home. Most of the trouble incited in any community where mob law gets the better of organized effort to destroy the government is a part of the program, comes from the fact that the active ones are of no property and can shoot up the town without damaging anything that belongs to them. Here is a good field for the legislature of Wisconsin to enter. Exemption of homes from the burden of taxation up to a certain amount on the new home will stimulate the building of houses all over the state.

Nothing in the thermometer to indicate autumn has arrived.

SWEDEN VOTES ON PROHIBITION.

Sweden has just voted on prohibition. The vote was in reality a referendum on whether the Gothenburg system of government handling of liquor should be retained or abolished. The result was that the system was upheld and the people will continue to have alcoholic liquors on the rationing plan.

Gothenburg, the native place of the system which has worked so well in Scandinavian lands, votes by 51,487 to 12,693 against prohibition. Stockholm votes 138,300 to 21,996 the same way. The other cities are wet. The country districts, however, seem to have favored the proposed change, which, by the way, would have given the Government no power to check beer under 2.8 alcoholic content.

It is estimated that drinking of spirits is more nearly universal in Norway and Sweden at the beginning of the nineteenth century than anywhere else on earth. Social customs were persistent. Feasting without spirits was unknown. In 1803 Gothenburg took the lead in regulation—the idea being a municipal monopoly in the hands of private persons of known standing in the community, restricted to 5 per cent profits and run in the interest of the public. Later this was accepted by most Swedish municipalities. It was Stockholm, on the suggestion of Dr. Ivan Bratt, that introduced the ration cards. It is said that every sixth person in Sweden has one of these cards. One can get four liters of spirits a month under such a card. No person under twenty-one can have a card and the privilege may be taken away for drunkenness.

Getting coal from the mine to your bin is going to prove the problem of the hour for several hours.

FLORIDA TO PACIFIC IN 21 HOURS

(From Boston Transcript.)

So many wonders are there in the story of man's conquest of the air that many persons, at first blush, will see nothing particularly marvelous in Lieutenant James H. Doolittle's transcontinental flight, in which he flew with only one stop from Jacksonville, Fla., to San Diego, Calif., a total distance of 2,275 miles, in less than twenty-four hours. The whole journey required for its completion twenty-two hours and thirty-one minutes, the actual flying time, exclusive of stops, being twenty-one hours and thirteen minutes. Marvelous as are many of the things done by the modern airman in the course of his daily routine, the exploit of Lieutenant Doolittle must, nevertheless, challenge our wonder and our admiration. He has done what many an aviator has long dreamed of doing—crossing the continent from the setting of one day's sun to the setting of its successor, and this he has done without injury either to himself or his machine.

Lieutenant Doolittle's meteoric passage across the continent offers a strange contrast to the slow progress of the explorers and pioneers of the early nineteenth century. Fremont and Lewis and Clark laboriously and at a snail's pace wended their way from the Plains through the Rockies, to the coast territories beyond. Weeks were required to do what the airman can do in an hour, and months for that which he can do in twenty-four hours. In his third exploring expedition, begun in the spring of 1845, Fremont, with sixty-two companions, set out for California. He arrived in January of the following year, some eight months after he began his journey. For the

Washington's Wise and Otherwise

BY FREDERICK A. HASKIN

Washington—American citizens who come to Washington in the government service, whether to elective offices, such as those of senator and representative in congress, or to appointive offices, learn a great deal about practical business methods and finance. The government is so closely allied with business that the servants of the government are thrown into close contact with the great business machine.

These officials may be divided into two groups, differentiated by the things which they learn concerning national business affairs. One group is that which learns from the tipsters and lobbyists. This group's members may be subdivided into those who go home broke and those who go home rich, the former sadder but wiser men, the latter often with occasional pricks from their consciences. The other general group is composed of those who apply themselves to a scientific study of the information which their functions legitimately bring before them. These usually stay out of business entirely or go into it in a manner so cautious that they are successful.

In every group of men, whether they are tipsters or statesmen, there will be found some susceptible to the Wall Street crowd or get rich quick. The halls of congress and the ante-chambers of executive offices of the government will have as many lobbyists and sure-thing men in them as they will find a few officials who do welcome some scientific study of the nation's economic status. There are some left, the lobbyist who seeks to turn favor from a member of either house or senate frequently will give him tips on the stock market. Not infrequently these statesmen act upon such information. Sometimes the tips are good. More often they are not. But it is a part of human frailty that the gambling temperament never loses hope and so tips continue to be taken and acted upon. There have been not a few instances of country lawyers, doctors, storekeepers, and farmers who have come to Washington and been beguiled by the lobbyists and the smooth chameleon man. Most of these go home like shorn lambs.

The other group is the careful and conservative one—the scientific students of economic affairs. Probably there is no place in the world where so much information is available concerning the economic status not only of this nation but of the nations of all the world, as in Washington. This information is available to everyone, but the men who come to Washington have it thrust under their very noses, while those absent must seek for it.

The wise ones at Washington study these data. They can obtain reports of utmost value from the department of commerce, the treasury department, federal reserve board, department of agriculture, interstate commerce commission, federal trade commission and many other sources. This information is open to anyone.

A good case in point may be cited. A year ago reports received and made public by the department of agriculture, showed what the indications would be for crops of cotton, not only in this country but in the whole world, for the coming year. Reports of the census bureau showed the rate of American consumption and reports to the bureau of foreign and domestic commerce showed the rate of consumption in the textile mills of Belgium, England, France, Germany, and the Orient, as well as in all other countries. No single report would mean a great deal. But the man who took all these reports and studied them learned that it was as inevitable as the succession of night and day that the price of cotton would rise. Everyone knows that the price of cotton—last fall a dirt-cheap bargain—has risen notably.

The students among the Washington officials who were able to take advantage of this information bought cotton last year. They now have made substantial profits.

The same is true of the stock market. The first group governed by the tipsters, buy on margin because of some stray fragment of information passed along. A small fluctuation in prices, such as no man can foresee but such as a small group in Wall Street can manipulate, wipes out the gains of the tipsters. The studious Washingtonian buys stocks not on margin but outright. The momentary fluctuation cannot disturb him. His purchases are based on a knowledge of the supply and demand of various commodities in the country and what they are likely to be for a long time in advance. He cannot be misled. He merely hangs on until the price of his stock rises to a point where he believes the inevitable reaction will set in then he sells and takes his profit.

Recently there was a million share day on the New York stock exchange. The generally was heralded by brokers as an indication of growing prosperity and they encouraged the public to buy the stocks which were being offered.

Immediately afterwards a close student of national and international affairs made the following analysis:

"If a million shares were traded in, they had to come from somewhere. They were stocks which are held by the big investors, the men who make a close study of fundamental economic conditions. When big men dump their stocks on the market they surely cannot be expecting permanent increases in price. They must be expecting the lower prices they would hold on. With the country facing a winter of curtailed industrial output due to the strikes, the big men appear to think that these particular stocks are not going any higher; therefore they are unloading before the reaction sets in. The little trader sees a big day on the exchange, assumes that stocks are active because the list is due for a rise, and buys on margin. Small, snap-judgment men are buying what big, investigating men are selling. Somebody is going to lose, that is the fundamental condition in the United States are getting better slowly but steadily and the above analysis does not apply to everything. A certain type of stocks was under discussion, and what was said reveals the manner in which the stock market is played from the two opposing angles.

It is agreed by those who know most about the subject that there is no royal road to knowledge of the business situation and to the gateway of opportunity in the teeming world of American trade. It is agreed also, however, that care and study devoted to the signs of the times, revealed by the reports which the government compiles and makes available to everyone will be repaid with an understanding of conditions procurable in no other way.

Last June an executive of a big industrial concern who had been studying Washington reports consistently, reached the conclusion that it would be wise for his company to order coal. He laid in a large supply at $25.0 a ton. Later, when other companies were shutting down or struggling with priorities and paying up to $32 for wildcat coal, he was in a position to sell his coal at a profit.

Lieutenant Doolittle's flight was a fine achievement, of a kind rarely matched in the annals of American aviation. He has brought honor not only upon himself, but upon military aviation as well.

JUST FOLKS

BY EDGAR A. GUEST

MOTHER AND THE STYLES
Dresses high and dresses low,
Fashion's biennial work and go,
Tresses bobbed and tresses long,
Fashion sways the moving throng;
What was new becomes the old,
This new changing life is told,
First we dress it with a smile,
Then adopt the latest style,
But with all the passing days,
Mothers never change their ways.

Gay of heart and bright of face,
Fashion seems to rule the race,
With the swinging of the clock,
Youth gives age another shock,
Flaunting into public view,
Something Age would never do,
Laughing at us when we preach,
Sneering at us when we teach,
But with all of fashion's wiles,
Mothers never change their styles.

Motherhood's no fickle thing,
To be changed each fall and spring;
It is as it was so and so,
Split of all its cares and pains,
Joy may call and pleasure lure,
But a mother's love is pure,
And the baby sits to rest,
Pillows and velvet breast,
Clinging little drooping eyes,
To the softest lullabies.

Mothers worry night and day,
When their children are away,
Mothers grieve when they are well,
Always have and always will,
They would shield you with their care,
Every day and every where,
And they are happy through and through,
At the sight of you when you are young,
To the ending of their days,
Mothers never change their ways.

OUR OWN RUBAIYAT
Give me a nice-hot telephone booth
In the back end of a crowded drug store.
A sarcasmic telephone operator,
A busy number,
But I wouldn't annoy me,
For I have things to say.
Before I get all the wrong numbers
In town that might embarrass you.
But give me the number of a nice, cold,
Just before you get away from heat prostration,
Before I rush to the open and gasp for breath,
Just one short word with the party I seek
And any old place in the great outdoors
Will be paradise enough.

Every once in awhile we see some summer resorters panting in from the trains, coming home to get cooled off.

Men's suits of red and green cloth, it is said, will prevent sunstroke. Give us the sunstroke.

The American Press Humorists' association, made up of column conductors, seems to have passed quietly away. After eight or ten annual conventions, the humorists couldn't stand one another's quips any longer.

TWO EPILOGUES

First Epilogue.—A fox born in Iceland with hairy soles on its feet, short blunt ears and a great length of fur. The winters are cold and the wonder how it keeps the carnivorous dog-like animal warm.

Second Epilogue.—A restaurant on a warm night in August. A charming young thing with earrings. Around her well-powdered neck she is wearing the fur of the fox from Iceland. Women are wonderful!

Lenina, who was assassinated while on a train going to a Caucasian summer resort, is now enjoying the bathing at that resort.

No mention is made of steam radiators to keep the rooms cool in the winter. Perhaps they had some other refrigerating system yet to be discovered.

Who's Who Today

EDWARD N. HURLEY
Edward N. Hurley, member of the federal trade commission and later chairman of the shipping board, is being the two administrations of President Wilson, looms as a candidate for mayor of Chicago.

Semi-official announcement was made recently that the Hurley is to be invited to enter the primary contest that is to be fought out next April.

Hurley is a native of Illinois. He was born in Galena, Ill., July 21, 1867. After receiving a public school education he became an engineer on the C. & N. O. railroad. Later he became traveling salesman for the U. S. Rubber Co. in Chicago, and eventually became manager of that firm. He organized and developed the Pneumatic Tool Company in this country and Europe. He acquired wealth in that business and then sold out his holdings, took up stock raising at his country home and divided his time between that and commercial interests.

He was appointed U. S. trade commissioner to the Latin American countries in 1913. Later he served as vice chairman and chairman of the federal trade commission. He resigned the latter position in February, 1917, and in July that year was named chairman of the U. S. shipping board. He was awarded the distinguished service medal for his services in moving troops and supplies during the war.

LOOKING BACKWARD

FORTY YEARS AGO
Sept. 8, 1882.—Galbraith brothers, well-known owners of Oriskany horse, have brought Rock county into prominence by taking seven premiums at the Indiana state fair with their horses.

The season at the Myers theater has now opened in earnest, and performances are given there almost nightly, each time by a different company.

Sept. 8, 1882.—Today was "Republican Day" at the county fair here, and in spite of the bad weather which has been prevalent since the fair opened, there was a large crowd present.

The report that T. S. Nolan is to run for assemblyman has been denied by Mr. Nolan. Edward J. Smith, Miss Grace Nolan, both of this city, were married this morning.

Sept. 8, 1882.—Rev. Mr. Vaughn of the Baptist church used the recent controversy over Sunday opening of theaters as a sermon yesterday, saying that there was no form of amusement on Sunday, or having any places of business open on that day.

Rev. Robert C. Deimison of the Congregational church gave his first sermon there yesterday since his two months' trip from Europe.

Sept. 8, 1882.—The sugar beet crop in this section is developing well, and harvest is expected to be started soon. The local factory will open next month.—Gravel is being sent from this city to Milwaukee for a race-track.

THE PHYSIOLOGY OF SWEATING

The skin excretes practically the same substances the kidneys excrete, save that these substances in the sweat are insignificant in quantity as compared with kidney excretion. Before we learned that the quantities of urea, ammonia, uric acid, amino-acids, creatinin, chlorides, phosphates and sulphates excreted in the sweat were insignificant, the sweat was believed to take up the work of the kidneys, and sweat-baths of various kinds were much employed in the treatment of kidney diseases. Now we know better and the sweat-bath treatment has been discarded by most physicians.

In the excretion of sweat, just one substance is the function of the skin as compared with that of the kidneys, and that substance is pure water. Ordinarily from five to six pints of water are excreted as sweat daily.

The only other substance excreted by the skin in anything like the quantity excreted by the kidneys is common salt. Of this there is ordinarily excreted in the sweat about 13 grams (less than half an ounce) daily, and the skin about two grams (one-half teaspoonful) daily.

Sweat may be alkaline, neutral or acid, but it is usually slightly alkaline. The acid character is due to admixture with the sebaceous or oily secretion of the skin.

Sweat is not only one of the natural provisions for body cooling, but it is also a means of excretion of the body's waste. The increased work of the body, which is not the sweating, which is necessary, hard work or play that removes poisonous waste matter from the blood or the body. That is not the explanation for the wholesome or healthful effect of exercise, as much as the benefit from exercise is due to increased absorption of oxygen in the body—burning up or consuming the toxic or injurious waste matter. The increased sweating is a good indicator of this increased combustion process, but it is erroneous to think that the sweat is carrying off any considerable amount of waste, that is not

ASK US

(Any reader can get the answer to any question by writing to the Gazette Information Bureau, Frederick J. Haskin, Director, Washington, D. C.)

Strictly confidential. The bureau cannot give advice on legal, medical or religious questions. It does not attempt to settle domestic troubles, nor to undertake exhaustive research on any subject. Write your question plainly and briefly and enclose two cents in stamps for return postage. Give full name and address. All replies are sent direct to the inquirer.

Q. Will you please explain how the amateur golf championship tournament is conducted and how it differs from the open? D. C.

A. In the amateur championship, it is where only amateurs may play all the contestants play on the same level of play. The 64 players making the lowest scores then play a second 18 hole round and the 32 players with the lowest scores in this round are then paired for match play which proceeds with the defeated players dropping out after each match until but 16 players remain for the final 18 holes. The winner of the final is the champion and the man who played with him is the runner-up. If they are tied at the end of 36 holes, they continue to play until one of them wins a hole. In the open championship, in which both amateurs and professionals may contest, elimination or qualifying rounds are played. A total of 64 players are selected—usually 64 and ties for the last place—who then play 72 holes at medal play. The player who makes the lowest score for 72 holes wins the championship. In case of a tie for the lowest score the players in the tie meet in a play-off at 36 holes. The winner, if a professional, receives a cash prize. If an amateur, he receives the value of the value of the cash prize. The club to which the winner is attached or belongs also has the custody for one year of the cup which is emblematic of the championship. The essential difference between the amateur and the open is that the former is contested at match and the latter at medal play.

Q. How far apart are the sources of the Rhine and Rhone Rivers? E. S.

A. The sources of the Rhine and Rhone are about 3 miles apart. The length of the Rhine is 800 miles, of the Rhone, 400 miles. The former river empties into the North Sea; the latter into the Gulf of Lyons and the Mediterranean.

Q. How many passengers will an excavator carry in an hour? E. D.

A. The capacity of an excavator depends upon its speed and the width of its steps. There are no mechanical limitations to the rate of speed, but excavators have found that a speed of about 100 feet per minute is most satisfactory.

HOROSCOPE

The stars incline but do not compel.
—FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 8, 1922—
Again astrologers read misfortune in the stars. Saturn and Mercury rule today's affairs and they are in evil aspect. Uranus is faintly helpful to humanity.

All the planetary influences of this week are said to be disturbing, leading for discontent and unhappiness.

Labor continues subject to disquieting forces that cause trouble in many parts of the country.

There is a sign that will hold to forecast much newspaper discussion of economic questions, following some untoward event.

Saturn is in a place that is not favorable to industry and mining, making for trouble over contracts, if the aspect of Mercury is interpreted wisely.

Broken promises and ignored contracts appear to be indicated by the position of Mercury in today's configuration.

There is a promising sign for education and the colleges of the land will be crowded this year as never before. Students being eager to study practical, vocational branches, the stars declare, adding that they foresee increased need of vocational training. Youngsters are to take the place of the old heads of industrial organizations. It is again prognosticated: The new era is rapidly making itself felt.

Marriages among the wealthy and great social pompam are predicted. This is, always held to be a sinister sign, since extremes invariably rule and in proportion to great extravagance there is extreme suffering.

The evening of this day should be a favorable time for psychic tests or for research in new fields.

Uranus seems to foreshadow wonderful new inventions and scientific discoveries that bind the universe in closer bond and pierce the veil between this world and the spirit.

Such insulation of the spiritual aspirations of humanity is to be indulged in by the most material-minded of persons, it is prophesied.

Persons whose death date is approaching should be taught the importance of a strenuous year in which it will be wise to conserve health and financial resources.

Children born on this day may be uncomprehending and difficult to manage. They should be taught the importance of truthfulness.

Don't Let Home Laundering Be Drudgery

Washing and ironing are about the hardest household tasks. Many of our women find the work of laundering is badly needed in many homes.

Following the best methods, using good supplies, and proper equipment will go far toward lightening the burden.

Experts of the Social Government have studied the problem of making home laundering as easy as possible. The result is a booklet certain to be of great benefit to the housewife who has to struggle with the weekly wash.

This is a free Government publication. On request a circular from the Bureau will secure a copy for any reader who fills out and returns the coupon below enclosing two cents in stamps for return postage. Write your name and address clearly.

I enclose herewith two cents in stamps for return postage and a free copy of the Laundry Booklet.

INDIAN LABOR IS POLITICAL ISSUE

Sydney, N. S. W.—The "White Australia" policy is likely to become an issue at the next federal elections of the government and pose a bill to give effect to the request of S. Sastri regarding the status of Indians in the commonwealth, politicians agree.

Mr. Sastri said, prior to his departure for New Zealand and Canada after having visited all principal cities in Australia, that Premier Hughes had been a warm supporter of the proposed bill when the matter was discussed at the last imperial conference, and together with the representatives of the other dominions except South Africa, had pledged himself to support the bill. But the labor members showed no enthusiasm. Several labor members professed a belief that Mr. Sastri's speech was the beginning of a campaign to break down the barrier to Indian immigration.

The Cross-Cut

A Serial Story of the Colorado Mines

By Courtney Ryley Cooper.

Copyright by Little, Brown & Co.

At Thornton Fairchild's death his son Robert learns there has been a dark shadow in his father's life which for almost 30 years has caused him suffering. The secret is hinted at in a document left by the son, Fairchild, which also informs Robert he is now owner of a mining claim in Colorado, and is advising him to see a certain man, a lawyer.

Barham tells Robert his claim is a silver mine and warns him against a certain man, "Squint Redline," his father's enemy. Robert goes to the mining town and finds an old friend of his father's, Mr. Howard, keeper of a boarding house where his father had stayed. He also rescued a girl from a predicament of turning away from her father, giving him the wrong direction. Harry, an old Cornishman, owner of the mine, only to find it filled with water. Fairchild also discovers that the son, Robert, is the son of the Denver road was the daughter of Squint Redline. Harry and Robert are warned to go home.

He dragged a box of domestic potatoes from a drawer of the table and struck a match to light one for Fairchild. With a sudden air of urgent business he hurried to both doors and looked them.

"So that we may not be disturbed," he confided in, that which, his faint voice, "I am hoping that this is very important."

"Also," Fairchild puffed dubiously upon the more curious cigar. The gray individual returned to his table, darning the chair, never to be seen again. Fairchild, leaning toward the door.

"If I'm not mistaken, you're the owner of the Blue Poppy mine."

"I'm supposed to be."

"Of course—of course. Could you possibly do me the favor of telling me how you're getting along?"

Fairchild's eyes narrowed.

"I thought you had information for me."

"Very good," Mr. Barham raised a fat hand and wheeled in an effort at intense enjoyment of the reply. "Be it. I have. I merely asked that to be sure. Now, to be serious, haven't you some enemies, Mr. Fairchild?"

"I was merely asking."

"And I judged from your question that you seemed to know," Barham pressed his body forward and nodded in an authoritative manner. "One very, very good friend."

"Ah, perhaps so. But I speak only of one friend. The rest are enemies."

"Well, isn't that?"

Fairchild squared away from the table.

"Barham," came coldly; the inherent distrust for the gray, uninviting individual having asserted to the surface. "You want me to tell you some very important news, don't you?"

"I want you to tell me some very important news, don't you?"

Abstract

Janesville Awarded State Y. M. C. A. Swimming Tourney

BELOIT IS GIVEN BASKET CLASSIC; CHANGE DISTRICTS

Busy Man's Sport Page

By FRANK SINCLAIR
CANDIDATES for Janesville high school football should take more than glancing notice at what Head Coach Klonis says about the Blues' chances for a winning team. The coaches will do their part by throwing all their might into the training hours. The rest will be up to the players. Here's a slogan for the 1922 team—"WE WILL WIN."

IT is not too early for the students' organization to develop the greatest school spirit Janesville high has ever known. The voice of every student will be needed to its full volume on the side lines this season. The first thing that is needed is a megaphone. Then a red-hot cheer leader.

LAST year Janesville had a homecoming day for its grid squad. Arrangements were made with a rush and a great crowd was out. Let's have another and larger event this year. Get the town behind the team from the very start. Give the players big crowds for every game and they will go into the field knowing they are doing something for Janesville.

HERE'S something to remember. The time the team will need support will be after defeat. That is not begging a loss, but merely as a matter of fortification against the future. A large part of a team's victory is in the encouragement provided by the fans. Boost for the eleven; fight for it on the field.

BOOKING of Madison and Racine is another step forward. These contracts were concluded last spring before the old set of coaches departed to other fields. Before another year is past it is likely that one of the Milwaukee schools will be on the Janesville grid and basketball cards.

George F. Lynn, Toronto, won, for fifth consecutive year, Canadian senior golf association championship.

William M. Johnston, San Francisco, twice national lawn tennis singles champion, and Davis cup star, denies this will be his last season of active competition.

Diamond Sparkles—Four Philadelphia twirlers failed to check Glants' batting onslaught in first game of series and although Jack Scott also was hit freely, champions had little trouble winning 13 to 6 and holding advantage over Pirates. #10 blanked Chicago, 6 to 0. Willbur Cooper, star Pirate southpaw, turned in his 20th victory of season. Cincinnati, #10, pined into third place, losing Cuba by pounding out 10 to 6 victory over St. Louis. American league rivals, St. Louis and New York, were idle while White Sox nosed out Cleveland, 3 to 8, in 10 innings and Athletics took double header from Red Sox. Catcher Yarnan, replacing Ray C. Schalk, was injured in the 10th after pounding out homer in first time at bat to give White Sox their verdict. Ralph Binelli, popper third baseman of Cincinnati fattened his batting average against getting four hits in as many times at bat. Glants went on batting rampage at cost of Philadelphia pitchers, everybody getting one or more hits except Hancock. Grimm of Pirates, led attack against Cubs, with three hits, making out extra base hits of contest, a triple and double.

Evans, Knepper, Jones and Sweetser, survive amateur golf.

Meadowbrook and Argentine will meet in final for national polo title.

J. B. Smith's Sisk Tassel won tomboy stake at Belmont Park.

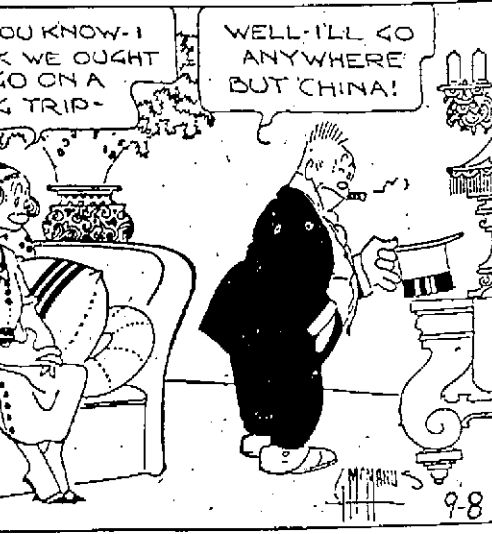

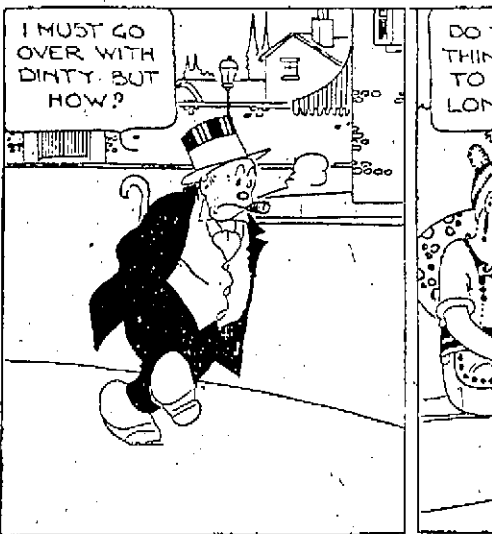

Fight Talk—Benny Leonard and Charley White, Chicago, matched for 12 rounds at Jersey City, Oct. 6. Navy Boston, Joliet, knocked out Jimmy Nuss, Depere, at Waterloo, Ia., (10). Lew Tander, Philadelphia lightweight, and Pat Moran, New Orleans, matched for 15 rounds at New York, Sept. 18. Eddie Billings, Superior, shaded Ray McCaslin, at Seattle (4).

National singles tennis meet starts in Philadelphia Friday.

Eddie Roush of Cincinnati suspended.

Yank golf team reaches Toronto for international match.

BRINGING UP FATHER

Heat Puts Crimp in Tennis Games

The continued terrific heat has stepped in to interfere with the playing of matches in the Janesville "Y" city tennis tournament. "Y" matches and part of another were all that took place Friday.

Robert Cunningham defeated Leon Battig, 6-3, 6-1. One of the first aspects of the tournament came when Leo Dugan trimmed H. P. Parsons, 6-4, 6-1. Play was started in the doubles Thursday. Claude Bennett-Kenneth Schmidt beat Roberts-Clough, 7-5, but called the next set on account of darkness.

A number of matches are to be played Saturday.

Seven Veterans on Beloit Squad

Beloit—Seven veterans will be back with the Beloit high school football squad this year. This was revealed at the first call for candidates, when 40 responded.

Captain Clarke Garrity, fullback, will be with the 1922 team. Other men who will be back are Deas, Reimer, Christopher, Shephardson, Hart, and Thimring. These men figured largely in the defeat of Janesville at the Power city last year, 7 to 6. Hayes and Gilbertson, who were mainstays of the Purple, are ineligible.

Last year Beloit lost only to Madison. The Purple plays Janesville at Beloit.

Fight Talk—Benny Leonard and Charley White, Chicago, matched for 12 rounds at Jersey City, Oct. 6. Navy Boston, Joliet, knocked out Jimmy Nuss, Depere, at Waterloo, Ia., (10). Lew Tander, Philadelphia lightweight, and Pat Moran, New Orleans, matched for 15 rounds at New York, Sept. 18. Eddie Billings, Superior, shaded Ray McCaslin, at Seattle (4).

National singles tennis meet starts in Philadelphia Friday.

Eddie Roush of Cincinnati suspended.

Yank golf team reaches Toronto for international match.

Rollie Is Only "Vet" on Wisconsin's Backfield

Madison—Grid hopes of the University of Wisconsin are dim this year but the light has not gone out. The fight is still there. Watch Coach John Richards bring it out.

Taking a glimpse over the situation, it is revealed that R. F. (Rollie) Williams, Edgerton flash, is the only veteran backfield man who will return. "Shorty" Barr of Milwaukee, ineligible last year, may be able to start as quarterback this year.

If Barr returns, it will then be possible to shoot Williams back to his real position at halfback. He is one of the most brilliant men in the conference at that position, his sensational pivot enabling him to tear off many yards of advance.

Last year Williams played largely at the pilot half. He was out there as the only available man on the team but he failed to make good.

For the rest of the team, it will have to be moulded from raw material. It is an unfortunate situation, but not an impossible one.

The Badgers got their first test on Oct. 7 against Carlton college, at Northfield, Minn. Homecoming will be Nov. 11 against Illinois.

For backback, left vacant by Captain Sundt, W. W. Harris of Racine is a line plunger of ability, while Phil Nolte of Wauwatosa and R. K. Slaughter of El Monte, Calif., are considered.

Gus Tobell of Aurora, Ill., will play his third season at end. The other end is open, with Steve Polaski of Nashotah the most likely aspirant. Russel Priest, Madison, a substitute on the 1921 team, is in line for either end or tackle. E. A. Carlson is available also.

Tackles make up another problem. Roman Drumm, a star of last season, recently fell and broke both hips, putting him out for the season. Rudolph Heitfeld of Madison, who played his first season as guard last year, may be switched to tackle. This would leave H. O. Christensen of Cambridge at guard, with the other weight position to be filled probably by H. T. Ellingson, M. F. Nelson of Oakbrook, and J. J. Sullivan of Alton. Alton of Sawyer is expected to fill the center position held by George Burge.

Six Heat Race at Elkhorn Fair; Sharon on Top

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE)

Walworth County Fair, Elkhorn—Six heats were necessary to decide the 215 pound feature event here Thursday. Golden Morgan, Weisjohn up, took the event in the second and last two heats, being second in the others.

Sharon's baseball team came out on top again Thursday. In the morning, they defeated Whitewater, 11 to 6, and in the afternoon nosed out the Bradley Knit-Wovens of Delavan, 6 to 5. An argument arose in the second game in which Jack Wootton disputed an umpire's decision. Delavan had the game clinched, but a clean hit was made off Wootton and the batter raged around the sacks and was called safe at home. The Bradley's insisted a ground rule held the baserunner to a two base limit on all hits.

Lathrop Loses; Edgerton Wins at Fort Pow-wow

Fort Atkinson.—William G. (Rusty) Lathrop of Janesville, not better acquainted with Earl Cashion of the Beloit Fairies Thursday afternoon. Bill was twirling topnotch baseball for his Famous Chicagoans against the Beloit Fairies at the big American legion pow-wow before a mob of 5,000 and was apparently having the edge.

Then came the seventh. Manager Chubb shot Cashion in to pinch hit. He hit all right, a triple, and the Fairies were winners, 3 to 7.

It was one pretty contest. Noyes started on the mound for the Enginemakers and was reached for five hits before he was jerked and Daveport sent into relieve him. Lathrop was steady, fielded his position extremely well. Errors behind him were costly.

The game was delayed in the fifth frame for 15 minutes by rain. Edgerton made up for its defeat at the hands of the Fort Atkinson team of the Jefferson county league recently, by winning here Thursday morning, 4 to 3. Six two baggers featured. Four errors by Fort were expensive.

It was a big day for Fort's people. The event went off in fine shape. Box score:

Every Motor Tested Severely

Particular care is devoted by Nash to the severe testing of the motor. Not only are various scientific tests applied to the metal as it goes from one stage to another, but also to the finished motor.

It is first extensively limbered up; then put under a load to develop any possible flaw in performance; next, disassembled and inspected, then reassembled and tested in the silent room for quietness; and, finally, given a road-test in the completed car.

TURN ATTENTION TO GENERAL POLL

Many Independent Candidacies Expected to Develop Before November.

(By Associated Press.) Madison.—The first real battle of the bi-annual political fight finished, with the La Follette Progressive republicans victors, public attention now is directed to the general elections Nov. 4, and to the meeting of the legislature on Jan. 1, 1923.

Candidates nominated at the Republican primaries are not worried over the outcome of the November election. The overwhelming Republican vote, they say, gives them little reason to make a strenuous campaign against the Democrats and independents.

Indications that an independent run for election as governor may be made by Mayor A. C. McHenry of Oshkosh and possibly by Attorney General William J. Morrow show that Governor Blaine will be called on to carry his fight up to the general election. The active campaign planned by Mr. Morrow, Democratic senatorial candidate, will bring a sharp contest with Senator La Follette. Less opposition is expected by the Republican candidates for congress and by the remainder of the state ticket.

There is reported to be a decided likelihood that to prevent control of the legislature by the La Follette Progressive wing of the Republican party, independent candidates may be brought out in districts where the fight was close, or support be thrown to Democratic candidates. The La Follette forces claim control of both the assembly and the senate, giving them full sway in the state government.

Senator La Follette plans to return to Washington after a short stay. He may not return to the state for an active campaign before the November election, unless it is felt by him that a speaking tour is needed to hold together his forces.

Governor Blaine since his victory has been at his residence here resting. Although his campaign has been intense and made great demands on his strength, the governor says that he is in the best physical condition. He will spend the next month, at least, in his office prior to campaigning for election at the November poll.

Other candidates nominated at Tuesday's primary plan on a period of rest before they set out again. The state ticket looks for little opposition from the Democrats and socialists. Similarly congressmen do not believe that a strenuous fight will be needed from now on.

Strike Secretary Contradicts Ryan

Evidence that only one maintenance of way man is working at the C. M. & St. P. shops here and that he is working days and could not have been present at the time six shots were fired from a passing automobile at the shops, was made public Thursday by Charles Swan, secretary of the strikers' organization and member of the publicity committee. Mr. Swan made the announcement to contradict a statement by George Ryan, foreman at the roundhouse, that seven maintenance of way men are at work there.

Mr. Swan presents a signed statement from Henry J. Cadman, secretary of Lodge No. 140, maintenance of way, which reads:

"That Mr. Swan's statement that there is only one man at the C. M. & St. P. railway who belongs to the maintenance of way, I will say that he is correct. All others have been dropped for non-payment of dues. This is written to refute Mr. Ryan's charges of perjury. Swan's statement, as Mr. Swan knew what he was talking about when he made the statement that there was only one man at work and he was working days."

Former Crook to Speak in Church

R. W. (Razor) Fenton, one of the country's cleverest pick pockets and for 20 years, will speak at the Baptist church at 7:30 p. m. Sunday. His criminal operations in every large city of the country, Canada, Mexico and in Europe will be told.

Fenton is no longer picking pockets. He will tell the story of his life and give reasons from experience on why crime does not pay. He will show just the carelessness of business men, including bankers, plays into the hands of thieves.

He will be assisted by Walter E. Von Bruch, one of the leading song leaders of the country.

PARCEL POST RATES TO RUSSIA ARE CUT

Several changes in parcel post rates will make considerable difference in the cost of sending packages to Russia. Notice of the change has been received by Postmaster J. J. Cunningham.

One pound packages to Russia in Europe require 84 cents, while the price was formerly 90 cents. LONG SKIRT IDEA BRINGS CHANGES IN DANCE STEPS

Long skirts, coming into style with a rush that is making all short skirts passe, will "do murder" to the long easy steps that have been popular on the dance floor for the last two, or three seasons. As a result of the long skirt fad, a new and novel step is coming into style that will probably be seen here to some extent this winter. This step is explained by George Hatch, who with Mrs. Hatch, spent last week in Chicago attending the Chicago Dancers' association convention.

It is called the "Argentine fox-trot" and is reminiscent of the days of the intricate and beautiful tango. It is quite different, but has that same "Valentine" sway that suggests South America. Hence its name. The step cannot be described, as it is only one or two little steps and a twist but, once mastered, it is said to be easy.

Few other changes will be made in the dancing modes this season, Mr. Hatch says. The same style of dancing will be prevalent and there will be a few additional steps in the old-fashioned waltz.

Music, he says, will also be about the same, possibly more smooth. The same rather fast tempo will be used. The improvement noted in dance music this past season probably will be continued.

The convention, Mr. Hatch said, was one of the best ever held. The sessions were at the Merry Gardens, where Friday night there was a big ball and entertainment. Mr. Hatch had a prominent part in the latter. Daring masters from 12 states were present.

Mr. and Mrs. Hatch will open their classes around the first of October. They also give private instruction.

Backing the contention that gates are needed at the two crossings of the Northwestern railroad here, where occurred a fatal accident several weeks ago, a check on the number of automobiles using the crossing was made last Saturday and Sunday. A total of 2,002 passed during the 24 hours Saturday, and 2,148 Sunday. This is to be the big point which the city will stress in its plea before the state railroad commission to make the railroad put gates to protect the autoists and pedestrians.
